Ingentis and RowSix LLC announce their partnership in the US market

Ingentis and RowSixLLC, an HR focussed SAP-consulting firm announce their partnership for the distribution of Ingentis solutions in the US market

(Nuremberg/Lacey, DATUM) – The German software company Ingentis continues its globalization strategy and announces a partnership with RowSix, an HR focussed SAP consulting firm, for the US market.

“The US market is one of the key markets of our globalization strategy with a high growth potential for Ingentis. Because of a partnership with a strong partner as RowSix we are strengthening our basis for further expansion in the US” says Thorsten Gorny, Director of Marketing and international Sales at Ingentis.

RowSix is a network consisting of currently more than 40 HR consultants with a broad technical and methodical experience in the SAP environment and who are well connected within the HR environment. “RowSix offers first-class SAP consulting services which cover the whole implementation lifecycle on a high level. Though we set high value on straightforward, goal oriented and top-quality consulting services that we guarantee our customers by the high-professional background of each consultant at RowSix. We will help our clients implementing the Ingentis solution in their highly complex and US-specific HR-processes and we will support Ingentis to adapt/develop the solution to US specific needs and requirements” explains Dirk Liepold, Managing Partner and co-founder of RowSix.

„The partnership with Ingentis enables us to complement our service- and product portfolio for our clients. The Ingentis org.manager is for us the ‘state of the art – visualization tool’ for the HR environment. Because of its ‘out-of-the-box’ approach, the easy and fast implementation and the high flexibility it provides for RowSix a large differentiation- and development potential” adds Cal Castleberry, Managing Partner and co-founder of RowSix.

Along with sales projects already being in process at RowSix customers there also are some marketing projects on the agenda “and many ideas in the heads” says Thorsten Gorny happily about the successful beginning of the partnership. RowSix and Ingentis – a strong team in the US...
